

Robert “Bobby” Hunt, the top scholar and a true leader at Enfield High School, is a results-oriented individual that hit the ground running as a freshman due to his strong work ethic and his commitment to learning. His inquisitive mind and critical thinking abilities contribute to Bobby’s love of science and math. These interests have strongly influenced Bobby’s decision to pursue a career as a pharmacist at the University of Connecticut in the fall.

Outside the classroom, Bobby has proven that he has outstanding time management skills by juggling a very busy extracurricular schedule. As an Eagle Scout and through all of his experiences in scouting, Bobby has developed strong leadership skills. He has served as the Treasurer to the Student Council, been a member of the National Honor Society, drama club and International Thespian Society, participated in the Model United Nations program and served on the Yearbook Committee. Bobby credits his participation in the Connecticut Spain Partnership program and People to People as having the most profound effect on his life.
